

The ACADEMIC SUCCESS CENTER (ASC) creates opportunities for students to learn how to learn throughout their academic careers. Our services support students as they practice skills and habits for academic success, learn with and from their peers, and reflect on their ongoing development as scholars.

ALS 116: ACADEMIC SUCCESS:

This course helps students improve their study skills, reflect on their learning strategies, and practice new techniques.

College coursework can vary widely between disciplines. In ALS 116, folks can try new study strategies, explore the science of learning — how our brains learn and remember best — and hear from and share experiences with peers.

Offered in person and online:

Fall, Winter & Spring | Begins week2: <https://success.oregonstate.edu/als-116>

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTION (SI):

Group study tables for historically challenging courses. Register week 1 of the term & study with others all term.

We know group study can be an effective way to learn material. We also know it can be hard to start and maintain successful study groups. SI trains the leaders, creates the groups, and designs the activities to learn course content.

For supported courses, check <https://success.oregonstate.edu/supplemental-instruction>

ASC WORKSHOPS:

Workshops invite students to contribute to the conversation and apply the topics/tools to their personal experiences.

The ASC hosts an online workshop series that anyone can attend. Share these with students so they can choose topics of interest that will support them and their individual goals and needs. Attendance confirmation can be provided.
